

Welcome to Grade 12 Communication Technology Wiki!

Can everyone please get their avatar done.

What is this Wiki all about?

This website gives you the freedom to create, update, comment and communicate your process throughout this course on any computer you can find. The purpose of your personal log is to document your planned activities and what you accomplish. All logs are to be set every Tuesday morning at 11 am; they are to be completed by Friday at 3 pm. Please do not lose sight of this part of the course as the marks will quickly add up.

Things to keep in mind.

This Wiki will be used in 3 ways:

- Information relating to our course will be posted for everyone to use. As you are required to add to your own personal page throughout the week, it is important that you check the front page for notices and other important information. Please do not edit the front page without my specific permission.
- You will use your personal page as your work log. At the beginning of the week you are set your work goals and estimated time to complete each task. Please be specific to tasks and the people, equipment and places that will be necessary. At the end of each class, please update your page with your accomplishments, challenges and needs. Be aware that Wiki allows me to track who and when anyone works on our page. Please be careful to meet our course's deadlines.
- If you have any constructive criticism or ideas, please leave a note on the person's personal page in the area for colleagues' notes.
